

Privacy Policy

Last Updated: October 27, 2023

Mono Money Pty Ltd (ACN 650 946 893) is committed to protecting your privacy.

We have prepared this Privacy Policy to describe to you our practices regarding the information we collect, use, and share in connection with the MonoNFT.

1. Information you provide us.

When you use our Service, you can add information to your account. We collect information and other data you add to your account, such as email addresses, Linked Social Media Accounts, favorited items and other information you provide us.

Some of your information such as social media and wallet addresses will be publicly available.

Our website also stores some information like your settings and favorites. We may associate these choices with your account, browser, and/or mobile device.

2. Information Collected Automatically.

To provide our Service, analyze trends, enforce our Terms of Service, and make the Service more useful to you, we collect information (typically Anonymous Data) from you when you interact with our Service, including, but not limited to, your browser type or fingerprint, operating system, IP address and associated geolocation, device ID, blockchain wallet address, wallet type, actions and clickstream data, referring/exit pages, and date/time stamps. We may also store this data in log files.

Like many online services, we use cookies to collect information. We may use both session cookies (which expire once you close your web browser) and persistent cookies (which stay on your computer until you delete them) to analyze how users interact with our Service, make improvements to our product quality, and provide users with a more personalized experience.

We also engage with Google to help collect some of the information referred to above, which may collect information about your use of our Service through their own cookies.

We collect data from activity and information that is publicly visible and/or accessible on blockchains or other public sources. This may include, for example, blockchain wallet addresses and information regarding purchases, sales, or transfers of NFTs, which may then be associated with other data you have provided to us.

We process information about and/or related to you to run our business, provide the Service, personalize your experience on the Service, and improve the Service.

3. Where we send your data

We may share your information and information about you with third party service providers to: provide technical infrastructure services; conduct quality assurance testing; analyze how our Service is used; prevent, detect, and respond to unauthorized activities or potential violations of our Terms of Service or policies; provide technical and customer support; and/or to provide other support to you, us, and/or to the Service.

We may share some or all of your information and information about you in connection with or during negotiation of any merger, financing, acquisition, or dissolution transaction or proceeding involving a sale, transfer, or divestiture of all or a portion of our business or assets. In the event of an insolvency, bankruptcy, or receivership, your information and information about you may also be transferred as a business asset. If another company acquires our company, business, or assets, that company will possess the information collected by us and will assume the rights and obligations regarding your information and information about you as described in this Privacy Policy.

This Privacy Policy may be updated from time to time for any reason.
